The Positive Leader experience offers a unique opportunity for leaders to develop the strengths, mindset and skills to become more positive and effective leaders.

The research is clear that positive leadership is not just a nice, feel good way to lead, but in fact, is the best way to lead if you want to enhance morale, improve teamwork and achieve greater individual and team success. Throughout history we find that positive leadership is a game changer in organizations and a competitive advantage in the marketplace. In this spirit, we not only share why positive leaders make a difference, but how they do itand how you can too.

Based on Jon Gordon's best-selling books, The Energy Bus, The No Complaining Rule and The Carpenter we provide you with the principles, tools and strategies to weed the negative, feed the positive and create a culture and environment where you and your team/organization can do your best work and make a greater impact.

Through short lectures, small group conversations, interactive discussions and customized lessons to meet your challenges, you and your colleagues will put into practice transformative ideas that power leaders to grow themselves, improve their relationships and succeed in a challenging and changing world.
